To Whom It May Concern:

I'm writing this note today to share with others the excellent experience we had working with Chuck Smith and Gary Goltz at C&J.

Our company needed help selling our King Air C90, which was very unique and had a somewhat unusual history, including being caught on the ground in a terrible thunderstorm. One of our friends recommended C&J.

Gary, one of the partners at C&J, helped us finalize our insurance claim and helped push the facilities to complete the repair of the aircraft. He also found a pilot to ferry the aircraft, he assisted in handling technical and warranty issues with the engine manufacturer and spent countless hours getting our aircraft into a condition to make it saleable.

Gary also spent time reviewing and negotiating inspections and repairs to the aircraft, as well as reviewing the aircraft records. He even went to meet prospective buyers in Tennessee, despite his offices being near Los Angeles. His ability to do all of this while constantly keeping us informed at every step in the process was both invaluable and impressive!

If you are considering hiring a broker to sell your aircraft, I highly recommend you use Gary and Chuck at C&J. I don't believe anyone could work harder on your behalf.

Sincerely,
